HCA President's Report for 2024

John-Paul Monck ALM '17

President

Harvard Club of Australia Inc.

Dear fellow members,

As I reflect on my first year as President of the Harvard Club of Australia, I remain in awe of the diverse and deep pools of talent, brilliance, and strength within our community, as well as the commitment of our members, and the enduring relevance of our mission. Our Club exists to make a difference as a Harvard community in Australia and in 2024, we have continued to do that.

This year has brought both opportunity and challenge for us as a club, in the context of the same themes as relevant to Harvard itself. We've consolidated our position in many areas and have explored new pathways to deepen member engagement, elevate leadership programs, and expand access to world-class educational experiences. I am delighted to present to you the 2024 Annual Report.

Key Highlights for 2024

- Membership remains strong, with paid member numbers meeting targets and engagement continuing to grow.
- Financially, the Club remains stable.
- Philanthropy flourished with over $270,000 in scholarships provided.
- The Principals Program hosted 131 participants with a Net Promoter Score of +86.
- A new private equity and venture capital scholarship was launched.
- Key fellowships and scholarships continued with strong impact.

Strategic Update

Following strategic workshops guided by Tom Saar, the Council has reaffirmed six key strategic priorities:

1. Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI)
2. Membership
3. Engagement
4. Events, Chapters and SIGs
5. Philanthropy
6. Pathways

I am especially grateful to Tom Saar and all Council members for their insight and time.

Magnet and Programs

Our digital infrastructure and communications collectively referred to as “Magnet” continue to evolve. Improvements in usability, content, and social presence have made a tangible difference and the Club will continue to explore ways to connect meaningful content and opportunities to contribute and to benefit from membership through the leverage of this global tool.

Philanthropy and Impact

- 40 Scholarships were awarded to principals across all states and territories, directly contributing to the quality of education in Australia for many years to come.
- While the Program for Leaders has been discontinued as of right now; we again wish to give special thanks to Dr. Melinda Muth for the incredible achievement of over $1 million raised and 700 executives trained, while we explore future possibilities to offer similar programs in the future.
- Non-Profit Workshop hosted by Prof. Ethan Bernstein with good attendance.
- The inaugural New venture scholarships launched by HCA which supported Georgia Barkell and Reece Miller on both sides of the purpose-driven venture equation.
- Congratulations again to Tiger Lin and Carina Stone, our 2024 R.G. Menzies Scholars.

Financial Position

The Club reported a modest loss in 2024, in line with budget and expectations for the year. Reserves remain stable and provide sufficient support for future initiatives as planned. Full audited statements are included in this report.

Vale

It is with sadness this year that we marked the passing of two of our esteemed members:

- John Armstrong MBA '59, President 1981–1982
- Sir Roderick Carnegie MBA '59

Their contributions to HCA and Australia were significant and they will be missed. We honour their memory.

Challenges facing Harvard

This past year, Harvard University has faced unprecedented challenges: litigation involving the United States Government; uncertainty over grant funding; and serious concerns impacting research continuity.

While this is a difficult time, we remain confident that these challenges will pass. As alumni, we each have a role to play in upholding Harvard's legacy and its global contributions. Offers of support and encouragement are welcome, as many Members have sought opportunities to do so. Please contact me at president@harvardclub.org.au if you'd like your message shared with the Alumni Office.

Looking Ahead

In 2025, we will continue to pursue our strategic priorities, strengthen programming, and deepen our philanthropic reach. We will continue the events that we have hosted in the past while also ramping up a combination of world-class speakers and technical growth opportunities, as well as more informal gatherings for our member base across the country to continue to inspire each other through.

As always, the Club cannot do what it does without its talented and generous member base providing support and initiative where it is needed (and where those talents and ambitions align). I would be delighted anytime to discuss the opportunity for any member(s) wishing to contribute through the Board, Council, or in any way over the year ahead.

Thank you again to all of our members who gave time, support or encouragement this year. You are the heart of HCA.

With deepest appreciation,

John-Paul (JP) Monck
President, Harvard Club of Australia Inc.

Philanthropy Report 2024

HCA Philanthropy Pty Limited (HCAP) is the only subsidiary of the Harvard Club of Australia (HCA). HCAP operates leadership programs and acts as joint corporate trustee for the HCA Foundation. This subsidiary was originally established to avoid any financial risk to the Harvard Club of Australia Inc. from operating leadership programs. It has grown to be classified by the ACNC as a medium sized Australian charitable entity. HCAP is a tax-exempt entity, which supports our private ancillary fund - The Harvard Club of Australia Foundation. HCA and HCAP support six scholarship programs to enable transformational educational experiences for Australians. Following the discontinuation of the Program for Leaders, these scholarships are funded from the earnings of endowment funds, and through the generosity of members. Read more about these sources of funding in the next section.

Our Professional Leadership Programs

The Harvard Graduate School of Education returned to Australia with its Principals Centre held in Sydney in January 2024 with 131 School Principals from around Australia in attendance. There is more in this later in this report.

We encourage members to promote the Principals Program to school principals they may know. Encouraging school Principals to attend the Principals Program helps us to fund scholarships as 50% of revenue over 120 seats sold is available for scholarship funding for the next program.

Program for Leaders

Our Program for Leaders has been discontinued following poor demand for the August 2024 Program which we had to cancel. Melinda Muth subsequently advised that she was retiring from the role of Program Leader. We thank Melinda for wonderful service. She took over leadership of the Program from Clive Gard in 2014, and put ten years into it, raising over $1 million for Club philanthropy and providing Leadership development for over 700 business executives. Bravo Melinda!

Program for Nonprofit Leaders

Professor Ethan Bernstein and participants of the Nonprofit Workshop

The Non Profit Workshop on the topic of “Innovative People Practices for Non Profit Success” was taught in Sydney on Monday 29th July and Tuesday 30th July 2024. It was taught by Professor Ethan Bernstein. We acknowledge the support of the Leadership Hub in marketing this program. Leadership Hub has recently gone out of business. We have offered this opportunity to the Social Impact Hub led by club member Jessica Roth.

We developed the Non-Profit Workshop as a two day leadership development program with one of the HBS professors in Australia for the Program for Leaders. It was timed to coincide with the main program, and was priced to be affordable for non-profit organisations. We built a good contact list with applicants for the Ferris Family Non-Profit fellowship.

The future business model will depend on being able to obtain the services of a Harvard Business School Professor when visiting Australia on other business. Flight costs make the program uneconomic. We have offered Jessica Mendoza Roth, at the Social Impact Hub the opportunity to manage future Non Profit Workshops when we become aware of an enthusiastic Harvard professor visiting Australia on a fixed future date.

The Non-Profit Workshop on the topic of “Innovative People Practices for NonProfit Success” was taught in Sydney on Monday 29th July and Tuesday 30th July 2024. It was presented by Professor Ethan Bernstein. We acknowledge the support of the Leadership Hub (formerly the Australia Scholarships Foundation) in marketing and managing this program. The Program made a very worthwhile financial contribution to HCA Philanthropy P/L.

The Principals Centre in Australia 2024

The Harvard Principals Program was held in Sydney for the third time from January 14th to 19th 2024 at the NSW Teachers Federation Conference Centre in Surry Hills. 131 Principals attended. This follows 139 in 2023 and 171 in the inaugural year of 2020. In aggregate 441 Principals have now attended the program.

The class mix in 2024 was 30 Principals from each of Victoria and South Australia, 40 Australian Scholarship places, 24 New Zealanders and relatively few faith based and independent schools. The 40 Scholarship winners came from less advantaged communities in all corners of Australia: 7 from WA, 15 from NSW, 3 from SA, 3 from Tasmania, 4 from the Northern Territory, 7 from Queensland and 1 from Victoria. The NSW Department of Education agreed in late 2023 to a 50% subsidy on all NSW attendees. This funding has now been received and will assist with funding scholarships in 2025, along with Harvard deferring 50% of the revenue in excess of 120 seats, providing $30,000.

The Program was taught by 5 Harvard Graduate School of Education faculty led by Prof Kay Merseeth who is the glue that holds the team together as well as teaching "The purpose, culture and the perils of leading change", and "Lessons in leading Teams". Prof Karen Mapp taught "Building Capacity for Effective Family-School Partnerships", Prof Matthew Miller taught "Framing and Reframing organisations in education" and Prof. Elizabeth City taught "the Instructional Core, Task and Rapid Improvement" and "Strategy in Action". In 2024 the curriculum included two sessions on mental health and well-being taught by Prof. Vanja Pejic from the Harvard School of Public Health who works with HGSE.

Feedback from participants was again extremely positive. 90 of the 131 participants completed a survey. Of these, 89% are likely to promote the program to a friend or colleague. The net promoter score of the 90 respondents was +86. The aggregate satisfaction rate was 6.62 on a 7-point scale. These are again outstanding results. A sample of verbatim comments and thanks to donors are an addendum to this report.

In aggregate through 3 cohorts, 476 Principals have had an intensive Leadership Development Experience out of a population of about 10,000 Principals in Australia and 2,500 in New Zealand. In essence one in every 25 Australian School Principals have had this experience.

$270,000 provided for scholarships

Scholarship winners at Principals Centre in Australia January 2024

In 2024 the Harvard Club of Australia (HCA) awarded 40 (47 in 2023) Scholarships to Public School Principals in less advantaged communities (ICSEA below 1000). The value of each scholarship being about $6,500, a total investment of $260,000. A scholarship covers 80% of the course fee (applicants have 20% skin in the game), 5 nights accommodation and a travel allowance of up to $500 depending on distance travelled. The funding for these scholarships was sourced from 12 donors the largest of which were The Eureka Benevolent Foundation and the Vernon Foundation. There was a small amount of "carry over" donations from the 2023 program. Of note, every applicant for a scholarship received funding.

In addition to donations from benefactors, the Harvard Graduate School of Education has agreed to defer 50% of revenue above 120 seats. This amounted to about $51,775 from the 2023 program. To avoid tax complexities this funding was applied to a specific travel and accommodation scholarship for all New Zealand applicants who were school principals. These NZ participants were able to get $NZ6,000 funding for the program from a health and wellbeing allowance in their workplace award.

Australian Scholarship winners received a $5,000 subsidy for the course fee of $6,250, plus a distance-based travel allowance, and five nights' accommodation at the Rydges Sydney Central Hotel next to the NSW Teachers Federation auditorium. The total investment was $270,224. Donations from the program were received from ten donors, mostly associated with the Harvard Club of Australia and $5,746 of unspent carry-over donations from the 2023 program. The Australian Government benefits from better-trained school leaders and from $60,000 of net GST receipts.

Leverage is a key factor for donors. In this case, there is leverage from each principal leading a school with an average of 335 children and from Harvard, who are deferring 50% of revenue over 120 places to be used for scholarships in the 2025 program. Donors are effectively getting a 20% uplift in the value of donations through this initiative.

Encouraging principals to attend is an ongoing focus. It often takes a tap on the shoulder to encourage them to apply. Principal networks and former scholars are important recruitment channels.

HCA is very grateful for the support of donors and acknowledges that donor funding has underwritten the success of the program over 3 cohorts. The Program is demonstrably not viable without philanthropic support, especially the drive to get as many principals from remote parts of Australia to benefit from this high-quality professional learning and development and the associated recognition and encouragement to remain in the teaching profession.

Very positive feedback from participants

TCPA 2023 participants provide program feedback through an HGSE program survey. We had 94 responses to this evaluation. This feedback is outstanding, with 95% of the respondents classifying themselves as program promoters. The quality of the program rated at 4.84 out of 5, and satisfaction was 4.83 out of 5.

Testimonials were provided by 25 of the participants, which highlighted the transformational nature of the experience:

“This has been the best professional development that I have received in eleven years of being a principal. Whilst challenging at times it has also encouraged me to reflect and given me new ideas and strategies to implement with the aim of school improvement.” Mike Wright

"This was the most amazing professional development course facilitated by Harvard lecturers. The content was practical and engaging. I came away energised and ready to lead with knowledge about what's important to do in the future for school improvement to improve student outcomes, taking all stakeholders into account." Penny Hale

"The program has caused me to reflect on my practice and affirmed my purpose as an educator. A vigorous and demanding course that challenges me to identify how I can grow my leadership to effect change, support staff, engage families and improve educational and life outcomes for my students." Cheryl McNamara

"What I liked the most about the program was that it made me think and inspired me to think about how to implement positive change in my school. I walked away with lots of ideas and practical strategies." Catherine Baron

"A transformative experience that provides the knowledge, skills and tools needed to flourish as a leader in a 21st Century school environment." Neil Carmona-Vickery

"It was the most profound educational experience I have ever had." Ben Hancock

"It is an experience that cannot be bought or zoomed or gleaned from a book. Do yourself, your school, and your community a favour and go. Just go, don't think about it! 150 Principal School Leaders, seeking to be better, facilitated by one of the best universities in the world, in an immersive week of Professional Development. There's nothing more to say." Foty Loupos

The Program will return in January 2026. Picture in your mind a principal that you know or have an association with. Please suggest to that person that they apply to attend the program in 2026. Details may be found at www.gse.harvard.edu/ppe/tpca.

Please help the children of Australia by making a tax-deductible donation to support one or more scholarships, or the Principal of the school attended by your children or grandchildren. $6,550 buys an early bird place!

Harvard Club members can donate, with a tax deduction, to the Harvard Club of Australia Foundation. Private Foundations or charitable trusts can donate in a tax compliant manner through either the Public Education Foundation, Australian Business Community Network, Australian Schools Plus, or Social Ventures Australia. Please email chrism.56a@gmail.com or admin@harvardclub.org.au for more information on the specifics of making a donation.

Donations from Members

Members donated $131,000 during the year, compared to the $236,300 received in the prior year. This included $51,000 from Roth Family, Mike Ahrens, David Pumphrey and Graham Bradley to support scholarships for the forthcoming Principals Program, $20,000 from Bill Ferris MBA'70 and $10,000 from Tony Berg MBA'70 towards the R.G. Menzies Scholarship MBA Fund. Seven R.G. Menzies Scholars made donations totalling $22,000 (Prior Year $63,000) to the R.G. Menzies Scholarship fund at ANU. An honour roll of donors is shown later in this report.

Australian donors are able to claim a tax deduction for donations to the HCA Foundation managed by Perpetual Trustees, and also for donations to the R.G. Menzies Scholarship fund at the Australian National University. This latter fund has a Deductible Gift Recipient item 1 approval, enabling them to accept donations from Private ancillary funds and foundations. HBS alumni in Australia get class and section recognition in the HBS Contributors report for donations made in Australia to HCAF and ANU. Importantly, this is the only way to make an Australian tax deductible donation for your HBS reunion gift. Alumni in the US can donate tax effectively to the R.G. Menzies Fund at Harvard University.

Please consider donating in support of our scholarship and professional development programs and consider the Harvard Club of Australia when revising your will.

Earnings from Endowment Funds

The Club scholarship programs benefit from three endowment funds: The R.G. Menzies Scholarship Funds at ANU, a smaller but similar fund for postgraduate study managed by Harvard in the US, and the Harvard Club of Australia Foundation – a Private Ancillary Fund.

Annual distributable earnings in the ANU R.G. Menzies general Fund is $85,000 (prior year $79,000) and in the MBA Fund is $20,000 (prior year $19,000). The General Fund received donations of $22,000 (prior year 63,000), and the MBA Fund $20,000 (prior year $10,000).

The HCA Foundation has an endowment balance of about $2.1 million (prior year $1.8 million). The source of these funds has been profits of the Program for Leaders donated by HCA Philanthropy P/L; and member donations from the Harvard Club of Australia Inc. Taxation rules require that 5% of the fund be donated to DGR schedule 1 entities each financial year, providing an annual distribution of $90,000 in 2024.

The endowment at Harvard produces about $US 46,000 annual contribution to the tuition fee of R.G. Menzies Scholars selected in Australia.

In aggregate these endowment funds provide a secure and sustainable source of about $A250,000 each year to support scholarships.

Our Scholarships

2024 Harvard Club R.G. Menzies Scholarships

The R.G. Menzies Scholarship is the flagship scholarship program of The Harvard Club of Australia and now marks its 54th year. Initiated by James Wolfensohn KBE AO in 1968, the program has grown steadily in all respects and is recognized as one of the most prestigious postgraduate scholarships in Australia, offering two scholarships at $US60,000 each. Since inception, the Harvard Club of Australia has supported ninety-seven outstanding young men and women with scholarship funding to attend postgraduate studies at Harvard. Candidates are reviewed around the overarching objective of their potential to make a significant contribution to Australia and in this context, are then considered under the headings of leadership, intellectual ability and breadth of vision.

The Scholarship value is falling in relative value to other scholarships such as the Frank Knox Scholarship offered by Harvard. We have decided to work on an appeal to double the size of the endowment, and give us the opportunity to increase the size of the monetary award or number of awards. We welcome introductions from members which might assist us in this objective.

The scholarship selection process is carried out jointly with the Australian National University and we each provide three selectors. A seventh selector has historically been included representing the Menzies Foundation, so long as they provide financial support for the program. As there are no others currently providing funds, the number of selectors is presently six. Nayana Vootakuru (R.G. Menzies Scholar 2010) is our R.G. Menzies Program Leader. The selectors in 2024 were Rahul Lele, Joanna Davidson R.G. Menzies scholar 2006, and Justin Fung, President of the Harvard Club of Victoria. The Chair of the selection committee was Dr Suiwah Leung (Crawford School of Government). We thank Suiwah and ANU scholarship administration for their role in the smooth operation of the selection process.

R.G. Menzies Scholars 2024

The Harvard Club of Australia Inc., The Harvard Club of Victoria and the Australian National University awarded R.G. Menzies Scholarships for postgraduate study at Harvard University to Carina Stone and Tiger Lin. These two outstanding candidates join 100 alumni of the R.G. Menzies Scholarship program, which has operated since 1967 to provide scholarship funding for outstanding young Australians seeking postgraduate study at Harvard, and to make a difference to society.

Carina Stone

Carina Stone will be studying for the Master in Public Policy at the Harvard Kennedy School. She is passionate about researching and advocating for evidence-based social and economic policy reform that enhance the wellbeing of vulnerable Australians. She has a strong interest in policy solutions to improve women's economic security, and to prevent domestic violence.

Carina graduated with a Bachelor of Economics and Bachelor of Laws (Honours) from the Australian National University (ANU), where she studied as a Tuckwell Scholar. She was awarded First Class

Honours and equal first prize for the ANU Prize for Excellence in Gender and Sexuality Research for her honours thesis on anti-discrimination law related to caring responsibilities.

During her studies, Carina worked as an economics research assistant at the ANU Tax and Transfer Policy Institute, researching topics such as childcare affordability & female labour supply, productivity growth, consumption tax reform, and gender budgeting. She has interned at the Reserve Bank of Australia and the Centre for Excellence in Population Ageing Research, and has worked with the University of Melbourne School of Government and the NSW Department of Education. Following graduation, Carina volunteered shortly as a paralegal at the Top End Women's Legal Service (TEWLS) in Darwin, which she has since supported in a pro bono capacity. These experiences shaped her interest in evaluating and implementing policy solutions for complex social challenges.

Carina currently works as an Associate at Boston Consulting Group (BCG) in the public sector practice, where she is the co-lead of the BCG Sydney Social Impact Committee. As part of her work at BCG, she is currently on a Jawun secondment at the Kaiela Institute, a First Nations-led policy think tank in Shepparton, Victoria.

Outside of work, Carina enjoys bushwalking, reading, volunteering as a surf life saver, and playing the trumpet in the BCG band.

After graduating from the Harvard Kennedy School, Carina envisions a future career dedicated to researching, designing, and delivering policy reforms that improve the lives of Australians experiencing social and economic disadvantage.

Tiger Lin

With the support of the R. G. Menzies Scholarship, Tiger will be undertaking a Master of Laws (LLM) at Harvard Law School in 2024-2025.

Tiger graduated from the Australian National University with a Bachelor of Laws (First Class Honours and University Medal) and a Bachelor of Politics, Philosophy and Economics. Having served as an associate to the Honourable Justice Nye Perram of the Federal Court of Australia, Tiger currently works as a solicitor at Herbert Smith Freehills in Sydney.

Tiger's focus in the LLM will be deepening his understanding of constitutional and administrative law, which delimits governmental power and governs the relationship between the individual and the State. Upon his return to Australia, Tiger hopes to use this knowledge to work as a government lawyer, helping to ensure that the government acts within the constraints of its power and that statutory and administrative regimes are set up in clear and accessible ways to strengthen public trust in government.

In the long run, Tiger's goal is to become a barrister with a particular expertise in public law while holding a part-time teaching position at a law school.

R.G. Menzies Scholar graduates top at Harvard

In 2024, R.G. Menzies Scholar, Jessica Elliott, graduated top of her Master of Laws (LLM) cohort at Harvard.

In this interview, Jessica talks about what this outstanding achievement means to her and how studying at ANU prepared her for Harvard.

Congratulations on graduating top of your Harvard LLM cohort. What does this recognition mean to you?

I feel very fortunate to have received this recognition, and grateful for the support of the Lionel Murphy Foundation, Harvard Club of Australia and Harvard Law School, and the many ANU CoL professors, and others, without which this would not have been possible.

How would you summarise your experience studying law at Harvard?

Challenging, inspiring and eye-opening.

It was a once in a lifetime opportunity to study under world-leading professors and immerse myself in cutting-edge areas of the law. I was able to take advantage of the largest law library in the world to conduct research that would not otherwise have been possible, and learn from my diverse classmates from 69 countries.

Having graduated from the CoL in 2018 and working as a lawyer since then, I knew exactly what I wanted to get out of my LLM, and Harvard offered all of that and more.

Particular highlights were writing my thesis under the supervision Professor Catharine MacKinnon, a giant in feminist legal theory, and taking her truly inspiring Sex Equality Law course which gave me a new vocabulary and lens through which to see the world.

Other highlights were studying under Professor Philippe Sands, taking Professor Tyler Giannini's Human Rights Litigation course and participating in Harvard's world-leading Trial Advocacy Course.

How did your LLB experience at ANU prepare you for the Harvard LLM?

Exceptionally well. The quality of ANU's legal education holds its own, even against an institution like Harvard Law School.

The need to take a critical perspective and formulate your own views on not only what the law is, but what it should be; having rigorous legal research skills; a willingness and ability to adopt critical legal and inter-disciplinary perspectives, and being able to debate complex legal ideas with Professors and tutors placed me in excellent stead both at Harvard, and my career to date.

What is next for you?

I am delighted to have started a new position as a Senior Associate at Pogust Goodhead, which draws on the expertise I gained in human rights litigation and corporate accountability at Harvard Law School.

I am working on Município de Mariana and Ors v BHP Group Plc and BHP Group Ltd (ongoing), the largest opt-in class action lawsuit in English legal history arising from Brazil's worst environmental disaster.

Australia- Harvard Fellowships

The Australia-Harvard Fellowships were established in 2004 under the leadership of John Turner AMP'86, with the aim of encouraging knowledge exchange between Harvard University and Australian universities and research institutes, consistent with the origins of our R.G. Menzies Scholarship, a program which envisaged Harvard academics visiting Australia, as well as offering post-graduate study at Harvard. Dr. Galina Kaseko GMP'12 of the Stephen Sanig Research Institute, is Fellowships Program Leader, and its Chair is Prof. Marc Pellegrini, CEO of the Centenary Institute. Since Inception $1,202,000 has been awarded to 82 Fellowship recipients. This program is highly regarded in life science research circles and has resulted in several substantial National Health and Medical Research grants, and two professors migrating to Australia for lengthy periods at Australian medical research institutes. New South Wales Woman of the Year 2018 was awarded to Fellow Prof. Hala Zreiqat.

The two Fellows for 2025 are:

Larissa NEKHLIUDOV, MD, Professor, Physician Primary Care, Brigham and Women's Hospital/Clinical Director, Internal Medicine for Cancer Survivors, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Dept. of Medicine, Brigham and Women's Hospital.

Marie-France HIVERT, MD, MMSc, Assoc. Professor, Department of Population Medicine (DPM), Harvard Medical School (HMS); Director of Precision Medicine Translational Research (PROMoTer) Center, DPM, HMS, Endocrinologist, Diabetes in Pregnancy Program, Diabetes Unit, Massachusetts General Hospital.

Professor Larissa Nekhlyudov, MD

Prof. Nekhlyudov's efforts at the Brigham and Women's Hospital, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute focus on clinical care, research, and teaching, with the overall goal of improving the quality of care for patients living with and beyond cancer, a field termed cancer survivorship. She is regarded as one of a handful of primary care providers at the forefront of this field who promotes awareness among health care professionals about the ongoing needs of cancer survivors. Over the past few years, she has developed close collaborations with preeminent researchers and clinicians in the field of cancer survivorship in Australia. The collaboration has led to making progress in improving the care for cancer survivors internationally. Much of this work has been achieved through online communication and sporadic in-person meetings at conferences (in Australia, US, and other countries). Having an opportunity to spend dedicated time with Dr. Raymond Chan, Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research) at Flinders University, a leading researcher in the field of cancer care, systems, and policy will enrich and expand the impact of this collaboration leading to further improvement in the quality of cancer survivorship care in the US, Australia and internationally through the development of clinical pathways for people living with advanced or metastatic cancer as well as development of an educational curriculum on cancer survivorship care for clinicians caring for people affected by cancer (specialist, multidisciplinary cancer care providers, and primary care providers). The strategic partnership with Flinders University aims to access its networks in the Asia Pacific Region, and globally through the Multinational Association for Supportive Care in Cancer. Further, through involvement and direct mentorship, these efforts will be critical in promoting careers of trainees and junior faculty across both institutions.

Assoc Professor Marie-France HIVERT, MD, MMSc

Assoc Prof Hivert at Harvard Medical School and Diabetes Unit of Massachusetts General Hospital together with Dr Arianne Sweeting and Professor David Simmons at University of Sydney have been leading the field of precision medicine for diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of diabetes with extra focus on gestational diabetes to consider current gaps and future opportunities for research and clinical applications using precision medicine. Gestational diabetes is defined as diabetes first recognized during pregnancy, and affects more than 1 in 7 pregnancies globally, being even more frequent in some populations such as Asians, South-Asians, and First-Nations. Gestational diabetes is associated with complications during pregnancy and at delivery, as well as greater lifetime risk of diabetes, obesity and cardiovascular disease for the mothers and children. Treatment of gestational diabetes can reduce risk of pregnancy complications; however, mothers and children still experience complications, despite standard treatments of gestational diabetes. Precision medicine seeks to tailor healthcare to individuals' characteristics, accounting for the heterogeneous nature of diseases. Whilst some outcomes of this collaborative work have been published in prestigious Nature Medicine and The Lancet, the current joint program proposes to develop the first international study using precision medicine to improve the intergenerational health of women and children affected by gestational diabetes. Australia has been a leader in the field of gestational diabetes, leading or participating in many high impact international studies defining its diagnosis and management with the first early diagnosis and treatment trial for gestational diabetes published in the New England Journal of Medicine by Dr. Arianne Sweeting and Professor David Simmons.

It also rewards outstanding individuals for their achievements in Government and motivates recipients in their successful public sector careers.

2024 Public Education Foundation Scholarships

David Gonski, the guest speaker at our 2012 AGM, challenged us to "put principals on a pedestal". As a consequence of this challenge, former HCA President, Patrick Regan EdM'06, initiated this transformative scholarship program to send outstanding public school principals from around Australia to the Harvard Graduate School of Education to undertake a week long professional leadership development program.

The Public Education Foundation, and Teachers Mutual Bank along with our support, has subsequently enabled 30 Australian public school principals to attend these professional development courses at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

These Scholarships have developed a high profile in the education sector. The Principals Program taught at Harvard has a high level of participation by Australian principals which has encouraged Harvard GSE to offer their first course outside the USA.

Since 2016, our involvement in the HCA Education Scholarship has been managed by Ricky Campbell-Allen EDM'10. Scholarships are awarded to early to mid-career principals who demonstrate significant leadership impact in their school and a commitment to public education.

The Public Education Foundation reported as follows:

“Three of Australia’s best and brightest principals have been given the opportunity to undertake a professional education program at Harvard University’s Graduate School of Education (Harvard) through the Teachers Mutual Bank Principals Scholarship, the Harvard Club of Australia Principals Scholarship and the Public Education Foundation Principals Scholarship.

Recognised for their outstanding work in educating the nation’s young minds, the principals will undertake a program at Harvard University, specifically designed to strengthen their educational leadership skills.

Teachers Mutual Bank, the Harvard Club of Australia and the Public Education Foundation are proud to announce the recipients of the 2024 Principal Scholarships:

- Teachers Mutual Bank Principals Scholarship – Ann Turner-Calleri – Edgars Creek Primary School, VIC
- Harvard Club of Australia Principals Scholarship – Anne Davis – Riverwood Public School, NSW
- Public Education Foundation Principals Scholarship – Paul Roger – Corrimal High School, NSW

The scholarships provide principals with travel, accommodation and tuition costs in the United States' city of Boston.

Scholarship recipient, Ann Turner-Calleri from Edgars Creek Primary School in Victoria, said she was honoured to be selected and is excited to collectively enrich our public education system.

"Teaching has been my passion yet I see many young people who have the skills and temperament for teaching overlook this profession. The opportunity to assist in raising the profile of teaching, educators and the value of working with students is my goal. We need to highlight the innate joy teaching can provide despite its challenges," Ms Turner-Calleri said.

Anne Davis, Principal of Riverwood Public School in New South Wales recognises the critical role of learning from Principals globally and then applying this knowledge in local communities.

"This opportunity will help me to refine and sharpen my leadership practices and values through learning with and from other principals from around the world. It will deepen my understandings about supporting and harnessing the community to focus on teaching, learning and wellbeing, to bring about improved outcomes for students, staff, families and community partners," Ms Davis said.

Paul Roger from Corrimal High School, also in New South Wales, said the scholarship would reinforce his commitment to ensuring his school leadership team will focus on providing the best education for their students through engaging and effective professional learning.

"As my school continues to evolve, it is important to look for ways to improve my capacity as a leader and cater for the specific needs of our students and community. I also believe this is an opportunity for me to advocate to all school leaders to look for ways to improve outside of what is mandated. I'll continue encouraging educators to look for positive ways to sustain our leadership in an everchanging educational environment," Mr Roger said.

Teachers Mutual Bank's Chief Marketing Officer Nichole Banks expressed her delight in offering Ann the opportunity to extend her leadership skills at Harvard and bolster the profile and importance of educators.

"Ann's leadership skills were put to the test after opening a new school in 2021 during the COVID pandemic in a new suburb north of Melbourne. Edgars Creek Primary School's results have gone from strength to strength since opening, which is a testament to Ann and her staff's dedication to creating a thriving school within their community" Ms Banks said.

"The impact Ann has already had on her team, school and community will be increased exponentially, as we have seen from many years of investing in the scholarship."

The Secretary of the NSW Department of Education Murat Dizdar said he was delighted two NSW principals have been recognised for their outstanding achievements with 2024 Principal Scholarships.

“I’m extremely proud Anne Davis and Paul Roger are being recognised for the wonderful work they do every day as principals in NSW public schools. Anne and Paul lead with high expectations and a relentless belief that every student can grow when it comes to learning and wellbeing. They both shine as champions for all school leaders through their ongoing commitment to improving educational outcomes, embracing community and backing their staff. Leaders in public education like Anne and Paul do not take lightly the responsibility for transforming lives through learning and I applaud their dedication to excellence in education,” Mr Dizdar said.

Ricky Campbell-Allen from the Harvard Club of Australia is thrilled to see public school principals like Ann, Anne and Paul deserve access to the best professional learning in the world.

“The Harvard Club of Australia wants to elevate, celebrate and support Australian public school principals, our true future builders – who lead teams of teachers to improve the learning and well-being outcomes of all Australian kids in every part of Australia. We believe a scholarship for a principal is not an investment in an individual but rather an investment in a school and, over time, a community,” Ms Campbell-Allen said.

“The role of principals is absolutely critical to maintaining the excellent quality of our public school system in Australia. They are highly skilled, not just in teaching and learning but also in community engagement, and of course leadership. We at the Public Education Foundation are so proud to see outstanding leaders like Ann, Anne and Paul gain access to this incredible professional development opportunity which we know will have a positive impact on the wellbeing, the learning outcomes and addressing the diverse needs of the students in their schools,” said David Riordan the Chief Executive Officer of the Public Education Foundation.

Each Principal Scholarship is valued at approximately $14,000 and includes program tuition for the Harvard Graduate School of Education program, Achieving Excellence: Leadership Development for Principals.”

Launching New Ventures and Private Equity and Venture Capital Scholarships

Bede Moore AB 06, Lauren Williams AB 01, and Jo Marsh AB 03,, initiated a new scholarship in 2024 to enable two recipients to attend each of the Launching New Ventures and Private Equity and Venture Capital Executive Education Courses at Harvard Business School. They were supported by David Pumphrey who visited HBS Exec Ed whilst on his reunion visit in 2024.

These scholarships are collectively valued at $A50,000. This funding was provided by the Snow Foundation ($A20,000), the organising committee, and a group of past presidents including Lisa George, Joanna White, David Pumphrey, Chris Smith, Justin Greiner, Zeke Solomon, Graham Bradley, John Doherty and Sam Weiss. A small gap of $2,000 in funding has been filled by HCA Philanthropy.

Bede Moore reported as follows:

"Two scholarships have been awarded, one for a founder and one for an investor, who have demonstrated extraordinary leadership in their field. The scholarships are intended to help reduce the geographic and capital constraints that come with building companies in Australia, and specifically, to support entrepreneurs and investors who are working on companies that will have a positive impact on our society. We were overwhelmed by the number and quality of applications we received for these two positions and had a very difficult time selecting our candidates. Today, it is with great pleasure that we announce our two winners for 2025:

(Investor) Georgia Barkell: Georgia Barkell is the Managing Partner of Sprint Ventures, a Queensland based Venture Capital Fund investing across Australia in impactful early stage technology startups in Climate, AI and Health. Georgia believes solving the biggest global macroeconomic issues will have the greatest impact and return, while upholding Sprint's mission to "build a better future".

Some examples of impactful Sprint Venture's investments include Umps, an aged care platform enabling our elderly loved ones to age at home for longer, and Vapar, an AI-powered water software for pipeline maintenance and planning, optimising repairs and efficiency while reducing environmental impact.

Georgia is dedicated to driving growth and innovation across the entire investment and startup ecosystem. She is a strong advocate for diversity, championing inclusivity across her team, the VC industry, and startup founders. Georgia is a member of the QLD government Innovation Advisory Council, advancing investment, ecosystem growth, and entrepreneurial innovation.

And (Founder) Reece Miller - Reece is the founder of SpendAble, an Australian fintech empowering vulnerable banking customers (disabled, aged, kids in care) to manage their money and payment in a safe, supported and accessible way. With over 9 years of being a self-taught entrepreneur, he gravitated to the social impact side when he co-founded his first company, Support Your Way at age 21 with a friend that had a disability and was looking for work.

"When I look back, I'm really proud that we accidentally started this company that provided NDIS support which grew into a management team with >75% of people with disability and triple digit revenue growth YoY until I left to start SpendAble. It was the perfect time to exit and try to tackle something bigger like SpendAble"

Reece founded SpendAble in 2021 to reduce friction and improve safety for people with disability and elderly people when they have support workers, carers or families paying for them. SpendAble now helps; vulnerable customers keep their money safe, gamblers reduce gambling harm, people with ADHD/Autism reduce impulse spending, governments and not-for-profits distribute funds to recipients in Australia with their SpendAble card.

"I'm extremely thankful to the Harvard Club of Australia because this scholarship to attend HBS will accelerate my understanding of launching and distributing in new markets so that we can make a positive impact on people's lives at a significant scale."

We wish to thank the many individual contributors who helped to make this scholarship possible, in particular Lauren Williams, Joanna Marsh, the Snow Foundation and a number of ex-Presidents from the Harvard Club of Australia. We are grateful for your collective support for helping our winners build impactful companies in Australia."

Parent entity

The single issued share of HCA Philanthropy P/L is owned by the Harvard Club of Australia Inc. The accounts of HCA Philanthropy are not consolidated with those of the parent entity. This is because in the event of winding up, the residual net assets of the company are to be transferred to HCA Foundation. The Harvard Club of Australia Inc. is not entitled to the assets of HCA Philanthropy. To consolidate the accounts of both entities would be misleading.

In the event of a shortfall of funds on winding up, the maximum liability of the parent entity is $1,000.

Financial statements for HCA Philanthropy Pty Limited are provided in this annual report.

Report on the Financial Report

We have audited the accompanying financial report, being a special purpose financial report of HCA Philanthropy Pty Limited (the company), which comprises the balance sheet as at 31 December 2024 and the income statement, statement of changes in equity and cash flow statement for the year ended of that date, a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes and the directors' declaration.

Board of Directors' Responsibility for the Financial Report

The Board of directors of the company are responsible for the preparation of the financial report and has determined that the basis of the preparation described in Note 1 is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and is appropriate to meet the needs of members. The Board's responsibility also includes such internal control as the Board determines is necessary to enable the preparation of a financial report that is free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. These Auditing Standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
